

CLIENT BILL OF RIGHTS

As a client of an Emergency Food Program, you:

- Will receive food free of charge
- Do not have to give anything or take part in religious services in order to receive food
- Will be treated with respect at all times
- Will receive food no matter what your race, family status, gender, disability, religious belief, or sexual preference
- Will be provided with clear instructions for receiving food
- Do not have to take any food items that do not meet your dietary needs or religious beliefs
- Will receive food that is safe to eat
- Will not be turned away on your first visit because of lack of identification. Documentation may be required at your next visits
- Do not have to give any part of your Social Security Number to receive food
- Will not have your name and personal information shared with other agency services, unless you give permission