Safe Thawing Practices

Improperly thawing food can lead to harmful bacteria growth, which is harmful to your health. Here are some safe methods to thaw your foods.

Thawing in Refrigerator

Place the frozen item in a pan in refrigerator until thawed.

Speed: Slow

Time: 2 - 5 days, depending on size of the item

Refrigerated foods must be kept at 40°F or below.
Frozen foods must be kept at or below 0°F.

Thawing in Cold Water

Place frozen item in leak-proof bag in bowl under running cold water, OR place food in leak-proof bag, then place in bowl with cold water, replacing cold water every 30 minutes until food is thawed.

Speed: Fast

Time: 30 minutes to 1 day, depending on size of item

Thawing in Microwave

Using the defrost setting on microwave to thaw frozen item. Only use this option if you plan to immediately cook the food!

Speed: Fast

Time: 30 minutes or less, depending on size of item

Cross-Contamination

Clean workspaces and utensils between each ingredient.

Do not allow ready-to-eat food to touch surfaces touched by raw meat, seafood, or poultry.

Do not prep ready-to-eat foods and raw foods at the same time.

Hand Washing

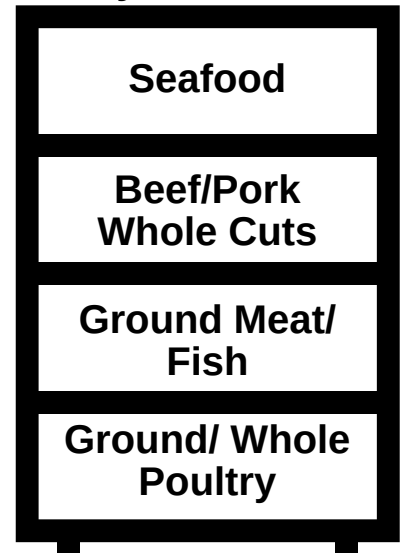

- 1) Wet hands and arms with warm running water
- 2) Apply soap to build up lather
- 3) Scrub hands and arms for at least 10-15 seconds
- 4) Rinse under warm running water

Refrigerator Storage

Store foods in the fridge in this order top to bottom to prevent cross-contamination.
